

At 71, Harry Truman Not Too Old To Still 'Give-'Em-Hell'

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—Harry S. Truman said last night the Eisenhower administration is using the power of the executive branch of the government to "undermine" the law of the country "in the interest of big business."

But, he said, "the people will win their government back from the forces of special privilege."

In a "give-'em-hell" speech before 800 Michigan Democrats, the 71-year-old former President accused the Eisenhower administration of "subverting the laws it is sworn to execute faithfully"; charged it pursued "in stealth and secrecy" a plan to destroy the Tennessee Valley Authority; and chided it with failing to balance the budget.

His speech, the second major one in three days, climaxed the three-day meeting of the Michigan Democratic Conference.

In reply to Truman's previous criticisms, President Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty said, in Denver yesterday that "with the exception of a few partisans, I don't believe anybody pays any attention" to what Truman says.

In a speech in French Lick, Ind., Saturday Truman accused the administration of "misrepresentation and demagogues."

Then in a news conference here yesterday he said the Republican regime has fallen "100 per cent under the domination of big business."

Truman in his latest attack described the Securities and Exchange Commission as "a prime example" of regulatory commissions "packed as never before with people who came from the ranks of the industries they are supposed to regulate."

He said Republican appointees to the National Labor Relations Board have "reversed a number of settled interpretations of the law to the disadvantage of Labor."

"The secretary of agriculture," he said, "a campaign against the programs he is supposed to administer and then uses their failure to argue that support prices ought to be lowered."

Truman said he thought the record would show "that this sanctimonious administration is having its own troubles with corruptions," which he said was the "deliberate use of the power of the executive branch to undermine the laws it is sworn to execute faithfully so that their benefits flow to the privileged few instead of to all our citizens."

"One glaring example of this is the Dixon-Yates mess," he said.

Truman referred to the public vs. private power controversy set off last year by the administration's proposal to provide electric power for the Atomic Energy Commission by letting a contract to a private utility group.

The Dixon-Yates contract, negotiated on Eisenhower's orders by the AEC, called for construction of a $107 million plant at West Memphis, Ark., to furnish electricity to the TVA to replace power it supplies to AEC. Eisenhower ordered the contract canceled after Memphis, Tenn., decided to build its own power plant.

Turning to what he termed the "fantastic" Republican campaign promises of 1952, Truman said:

"Somehow the notion seemed to have gotten abroad that all you had to do to balance the budget was just to behave nicely—if those wicked Democrats aren't such terrible spendthrifts, the budget would really balance itself. Well, what happened? We are now in the third year of the dispensation of big business and we have no balanced budget yet."

He added that the last time there was any balancing of the budget was "during my administration."

Ike's Blueprint Proposal To Be Detailed

Secret Big 4 Parley To Get Outline Of Inspection Setup

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Presidential adviser Harold E. Stassen put finishing touches today on President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military blueprints and aerial inspection with Russia.

Stassen said he expected to submit the detailed program later this week to the five-power U. N. Disarmament subcommittee, which resumed negotiations yesterday.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., permanent U. S. delegate to the U. N., told the group at its opening session the United States wants U. N. approval for the Eisenhower plan.

Stassen, who is sitting on the subcommittee as the deputy American delegate, was waiting for Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev to give an inkling of Moscow's current feeling about Eisenhower's proposal. Sobolev delivered a long opening statement to the subcommittee yesterday without mentioning the startling suggestion the President sprang on the Geneva summit meeting.

THE FIVE delegates planned to continue their secret talks on disarmament this afternoon. They agreed they would issue no more public statements on their deliberations.

During their current meeting they also will write their report to the parent 12-nation Disarmament Commission, which will transmit it to the General Assembly convening Sept. 20.

British Minister of State Anthony Nutting told the subcommittee Russia's plan for stationing control inspectors at major ports, junction points and airfields was not adequate to ensure compliance with full disarmament.

He outlined a plan for detailed inspection of the forces confronting each other along the East-West dividing line in Europe, a "practice" inspection which he said could be extended to other signers of a disarmament.

Judge Rules Out Doctor's Request

BALTIMORE (AP)—A defense request for psychiatric examinations for two girl patients who accused a physician of molesting them has been rejected in court as a "fishing expedition."

Judge Joseph L. Carter attached that label yesterday to the petition brought by attorneys for Dr. William Kessler, assistant resident in surgery at City Hospital and a native of Cincinnati.

Dr. Kessler is charged with having carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old tuberculosis patient and with placing his hands on her and on a 16-year-old patient.

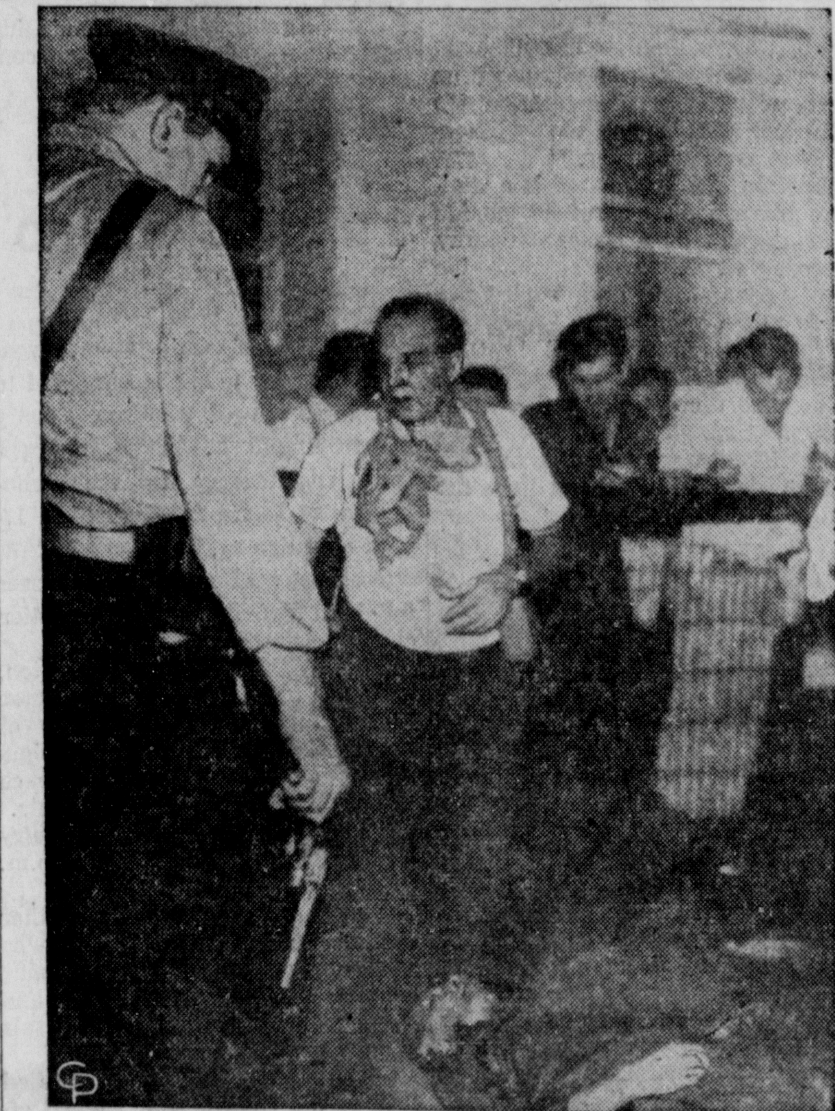

NLRB Rules Against Pre-Strike Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today voted 3-2 to prohibit an employer from assisting a union win prior approval from both union and nonunion employees before calling a strike.

An NLRB majority held the Wooster, Ohio, division of Borg-Warner Corp. failed to bargain in good faith by demanding contract clauses requiring an approving secret vote among all its workers before the CIO United Auto Workers could call a strike or seek contract changes.

He died later in hospital.

Farm Organizations Slated For Top State Fair Honors

COLUMBUS (AP)—Farm Organizations Day is today's highlight of the Ohio State Fair with special programs by big agricultural organizations and youth groups on the agenda.

One event will be a panel discussion by top agricultural spokesmen such as Roger Fleming, Washington, D. C., secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Roy Battles, also of Washington, assistant to the master of the National Grange; Joseph W. Fichter, Oxford, representing the Farmers Union; and C. A. Gehrig, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Farm Cooperatives.

Bill Hayes, recording star known for his "Ballad of Davy Crockett," will be featured entertainer in the nightly "Parade of Stars" show in the grandstand.

The eight-day exposition, which runs through Friday, has been drawing large crowds. The first three days have produced an attendance of 268,239, compared with 230,236 for the 1954 period.

State Agriculture Director A. L. Sorensen yesterday predicted "revolutionary changes" in the fair as a result of the St. Lawrence Seaway opening set for late 1958. He said the seaway could possibly convert the Ohio exposition into something of a "world's fair."

The seaway, Sorensen explained, will boost the state's economic outlook since Lake Erie ports will be docking points for large ocean-going vessels.

THE DIRECTOR envisioned a state fair split in several sections. "We might have a five-day junior fair, for instance," he said. "Then we'd close up for two or three days for maintenance and open up another section of the fair."

Among other benefits of the section plan, he said, could be more participation by a wider variety of businesses and industries.

But before any of these plans can be carried out, Sorensen said,

Rita Hayworth To Leave Haymes

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rita Hayworth has walked out on crooner Dick Haymes "in the best interest of my children, Dick and myself," she explained yesterday.

Apprised of his wife's statement, Haymes replied: "I don't believe it!"

But the separation was not the first for either. Rita formerly was married to Aly Khan, Orson Welles and Edward Judson. Haymes previously made wives of Joanne Dru, Joanne Marshall and Nora Flynn.

2 Agriculture Aides Fail To Attend Probe

Senator Plans Issuing Subpoenas In Hearings On 'Security Risks'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Agriculture Department officials who played key roles in the Wolf Ladejnsky security case failed to appear at a Senate probe today and Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) announced they would be subpoenaed immediately.

Johnston heads a senate Civil Service subcommittee investigating the Eisenhower administration's security program.

The two officials are Milan D. Smith, executive assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, and J. Glen Cassidy, the department's personnel security officer.

In an Aug. 26 letter which the subcommittee said it had not received but which was read over the phone to the staff yesterday, Benson replied that neither he nor his two aides would be available at this time. The letter made no promises for the future.

Ladejnsky himself now holds a key land reform advisory post in Indochina for the International Cooperation Administration, a job he got with full security clearance in January shortly after Benson fired him as a security risk.

BENSON, NOW on a European tour, fired the Russian-born Ladejnsky last December on the advice of Smith and Cassidy although Ladejnsky previously had full security clearance from the State Department. Benson has since ordered his department's records changed so Ladejnsky would no longer be listed as a security risk.

Yesterday the subcommittee heard Sanford Waxer, 27-year-old Army veteran denied an honorable discharge this year on grounds of association with Communists, and his wife Eleanor, who was suspended from her civil service job with the Army at Ft. Knox in 1954 on grounds of association with a member of a Communist-dominated organization.

Waxer called the Army's charges "absolutely unfounded" and swore he had never belonged to any group with Communist sympathizers. He is taking his case before an Army hearing board Sept. 6.

Mrs. Waxer told of months of still-unsuccessful efforts to clear her name through one government channel then another. The Waxers are from Detroit.

Greyhound Upsets Killing Passenger

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A double Greyhound bus overturned before dawn today, killing a woman passenger and injuring at least 10 others.

The dead woman was identified by a companion as Mrs. Clara Hemphill of Knoxville, Tenn.

Police said two oncoming trucks came over a hill abreast, one sideswiped the bus and it swerved off and on the shoulder of the road for 325 feet before overturning about 14 miles south of here on U. S. 25.

Ohio Suffers New Setback In Move To Keep Axle Tax

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio has been dealt a new setback in its plans to have other states amend portions of reciprocity agreements dealing with axle-mile taxes.

Motor vehicle licensing officials from seven states yesterday condemned the move.

The action was taken in a resolution passed 7-1 by district 3 of the American Automobile and Motor Vehicle Administrators. The district represents 12 states and the province of Alberta, Canada. Nine states were represented at yesterday's meeting.

The resolution urged that the states represented take no action on the requested amendments unless Ohio revokes its notice to cancel reciprocity agreements. Ohio told 20 reciprocating states on Aug. 9 it would cancel the agreements in 30 days unless they were amended.

Voting for the resolution were representatives of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Missouri's delegate did not vote. The Ohio representative, Robert L. Moulton, state utilities commission chairman, voted against the resolution.

Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota and Alberta were not represented. Ohio officials said letters did not go out to Minnesota and Wisconsin because agreements with those states permit the axle tax.

The reciprocity agreements provide that each state signing the pact will accord the other's motor vehicle owners special tax exemptions. Without such agreements, a trucker or tourist traveling by auto outside his home state could be forced to pay the full vehicle license fee in any state he visits.

Ohio's reciprocity board took action to have the agreements amended when the state supreme court was covered by the pacts. The court ordered Ohio to refund more than $1 million in axle tax assessments to Michigan truckers.

State tax officials said this meant Ohio would have to cancel more than $2 million in assessments Michigan truckers ignored.

They also forecast the "doom" of the axle tax, saying Ohio would lose millions more from other states with which it had reciprocity agreements.

The tax is a levy for use of Ohio highways and ranges from one-half to 2½ cents a mile on trucks with more than two axles.

Lee Richardson and T. H. Van Lopack, Michigan representatives at yesterday's meeting, proposed the resolution condemning Ohio's amendment plan.

Nebraska's delegate, Dale Rogers, said that "if the agreement between Nebraska and Ohio is rescinded, there will not be another agreement."

William B. Westbrook, Illinois reciprocity board chairman, said if Ohio's agreement with his state is terminated, "no vehicle owned by an Ohio resident—passenger or truck—would be allowed to enter Illinois without paying the Illinois annual license fee."

Passenger car license fees in Illinois range from $10.50 to $22 depending on horsepower; truck fees are much higher. The fee for a 41,000-pound truck is $640.

Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche has said the proposed amendments would have no effect on passenger cars from reciprocating states.

Flood-Routed Families Now Total 49,441

NEW YORK (AP)—The latest count by the American Red Cross shows that 49,441 families suffered losses in the Northeast floods of nearly two weeks ago.

The revised figures were issued yesterday. Previously the Red Cross had counted 35,661 families suffering losses and set its aid at $8 million.

So far, a special flood relief drive by the Red Cross has brought in over $5 million collected by chapters across the nation.

The Red Cross said 13,169 families have indicated they will apply to it for rehabilitation aid. The organization figured this would take up 80 cents of every Red Cross dollar spent in the area.

The Red Cross report also said 143 deaths directly caused by the flood have been confirmed by civil authorities. Of 5,909 persons injured, 252 required hospitalization.

The state-by-state breakdown of families who suffered flood losses: Connecticut, 31,193; Pennsylvania, 8,211; Massachusetts, 5,109; New Jersey, 2,206; Rhode Island, 1,362; New York, 1,360.

A total of 1,314 homes were destroyed, 4,905 seriously damaged, and 15,251 damaged.

Holiday Traffic Toll Expected To Be 20

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highway Safety estimates about 20 people will die in traffic accidents in Ohio during the four-day Labor Day holiday weekend.

Accidents will cause an economic loss of more than $2½ million, says Director U. C. Felty, adding:

"Until all drivers accept their full responsibility we might just as well face the facts."

Last year over the holiday, 22 persons died on Ohio highways.

Dulles Declines Name Nations Moscow Woos

Secretary Says Action Would Not Serve To Relax Tensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today there have been reliable reports that Russia has offered arms to some countries in the Middle East.

Such an action by Russia—the supplying of arms to nations in a troubled area—would not contribute to the relaxing of world tensions, Dulles said.

The secretary made clear to a news conference that he had no official information on the reported Russian offers of arms.

Reports of the offers have circulated for several weeks in diplomatic quarters here.

Dulles declined to name any country as the target of the Soviet offers.

But he responded to a question about whether he knew of offers to Egypt or other states in the Middle East, saying simply that there are indications that such offers may have been made.

DULLES SAID there was no evidence that he knew of that Soviet equipment was actually already in Arab hands. Those countries have been getting their military supplies from non-Communist sources, he said.

Meanwhile, violence continued without letup in the area of the Gaza strip in Palestine.

Israel charged the Egyptians with killing four Jewish civilians and wounding 10 other Israelis.

Egypt accused the Israelis of killing an Egyptian soldier and wounding four Arab civilians.

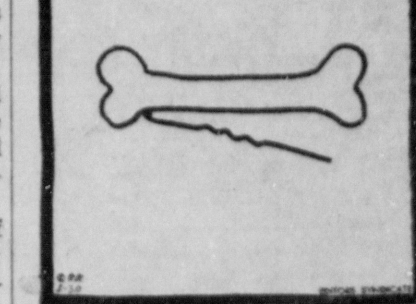

In Cairo, an Egyptian military spokesman said fighting broke out near Gaza at 6 a. m. and was still going on this afternoon.

"BOBBY PIN FOR WITCH DOCTOR'S WIFE"

I've been planning to visit Africa for some time to see if the Native Witch Doctors can do anything about falling hair, and as I always like to be prepared I just wrote a long letter to Ernest Hemingway asking him for some authentic info about conditions. I asked "Papa" (that's what the literary authors always call Mr. Hemingway) if he could recommend a good Motel on Kilimanjaro and if the Pygmies are touchy about being called "Shorty." I also wanted to find out if the Mau Maus have a Chamber of Commerce and if I'd have trouble getting film for my Brownie camera; and if he thought I should bring more than 2 bottles of Citronella. I hope "Papa" sends me this info right away. If he does I might let him use a couple of Doodles in his next novel.

He also charged that the Egyptians directed machinegun and mortar fire on the Erez settlement this morning. The spokesman said there were no casualties on the Israeli side in a 15-minute exchange.

The Gaza frontier has been the scene of repeated Israeli-Egyptian clashes in recent months. Eighteen Israelis and eight Egyptians have died in incidents near the controversial Gaza strip during the last week.

Dulles said the United States has urged both Israel and Egypt within the past 48 hours to refrain from the use of force in their border dispute.

Cool Canada Air Reaches Midwest

CHICAGO (AP)—Cooler air from Canada was making temperatures more bearable in the middle portion of the nation today.

The cool air had broken the heat in a band southeastward through the northern and central plains states, and reached the middle and upper Mississippi River Valley and the upper Great Lakes.

The change to cooler weather was preceded by rainfall which was heavy in some areas, particularly in Illinois and Indiana.

Trucker Gets Fine For Allowing Load To Drop On Road

A warning is out to all truckers traveling in this area to secure their loads as the result of a city court case Tuesday.

Everett McCall, 46, of Wellston, was fined $10 and costs for allowing his load of sand to "drop, sift and leak on a road". McCall was arrested by Sgt. George Green.

Several other truck drivers have been fined in the past for allowing hay and straw loads to scatter on the streets. City police warned today that they will crack down on such violators.

In another city court case, William Doughman, of Circleville, received a suspended $10 and costs fine for "failure to leave sufficient food and water for his dog while he was on vacation". The affidavit was signed by Ralph Wallace, Pickaway County Humane Officer.

Union, Firestone Near Deadline

CLEVELAND (AP)—Negotiators of the CIO United Rubber Workers and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. continued bargaining today as they approached a strike deadline set for midnight tonight.

A source close to the negotiators said prospects are "bright for an agreement" on the URW's demand for a "substantial wage increase." The amount of the increase sought never has been disclosed by agreement between the company and union.

Union employees of Firestone have authorized their leaders to call a strike if an agreement is not reached by tonight.

Henkle Promoted To Seymour, Ind.

Local Murphy Co. Store Manager
Transferred After 12 Years Here

Don Henkle, manager of the Murphy Store here for the last 12 years, has been promoted to the Seymour, Ind. store, tops in the company's chain.

Henkle and his family will leave Circleville in three weeks. No announcement has been made of his successor here.

The Seymour, Ind. store is in the top Murphy Company classification. The city is located in southern Indiana, approximately 50 miles west of Cincinnati.

During his residence in Circleville, Henkle has been very active in civic affairs, playing prominent roles in undertakings aimed at the community's betterment. He is a member of the Circleville Kiwanis Club, a past exalted ruler of the Circleville Elks Club and a member of the local Masonic Lodge.

THERE WERE many changes brought about in the Murphy store here while Henkle managed it. These innovations raised the local store's classification and made it one of the outstanding stores of its kind in the district.

His advancement was in recognition of his outstanding work here. He refused three previous offers of store management in other cities, saying that he saw a bright future for Circleville. However, the Seymour, Ind. offer was too much of an advancement to reject.

The Henkles have four children. One son, David, is serving with the U. S. Navy. Two other sons, Paul and Larry, are carriers for The Herald. A daughter, Linda, is a sophomore in Circleville High School.

Ohio School Chiefs Hear Of New Laws

COLUMBUS (AP)—More than 300 Ohio school superintendents jammed into a hearing room in the State Office Building here today to hear experts explain school legislation passed by the last Legislature.

Key matters discussed were the new foundation program which provides a different way of distributing the state's school subsidy, and the law setting up a state board of education.

Robert L. Rohe, state director of school finance, opened the all-day session with a discussion of the new foundation program. He said the new law contains incentives to provide better schools.

Distribution of state school subsidies under the new law will be on the basis of approved teacher units. Now it is on the basis of the number of pupils in a school. The new law becomes effective July 1.

Rohe said the new law will enable superintendents to employ better teachers, provide a better setup for county board of education budgets, set forth an allowance for special and vocational educational appropriations, and provide better minimum salary schedules.

The meeting opened against a background of a continued teacher shortage. In 1955 there were 54,070 teachers, an increase of 2,931 over 1954. There should be about 56,000 teachers in classrooms this fall.

Parochial and private schools will have a combined enrollment this fall of 1,875,000, an increase of about 65,000 over 1954-55.

Women Claim Skeleton That Of A Brother

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Two sisters today insisted a skeleton found last Thursday near New Burlington was that of their brother, who disappeared Labor Day, 1924.

Mrs. Rose Widener of Rt. 1 New Carlisle and Mrs. Dwight Hesselgesser of Castown, both in the Springfield area, told Greene County Sheriff Clarence Stewart their brother, Levi Minnich, vanished from Dayton after leaving his Springfield home.

The sheriff said the women told him a medal of the brother's was found with the skeleton, but Stewart said he had no knowledge of any identification.

At Newport, Ky., Elmer Minnich, a brother of Levi, also said he believed the skeleton could have been that of his brother.

A bulldozer operator, Tim Shoemaker, 49, of Bourneville, unearthed the skeleton while picking up dirt for a bridge construction job on Ohio 380, near the Clinton-Greene county border.

The skeleton was found in a shallow grave near a cornfield outside New Burlington. Greene County Coroner H. C. Schick said the bones could have been buried "25 to 50 years ago."

The skeleton was sent to Ohio State University for pathologists to determine the approximate time of death.

Sheriff Stewart said it was difficult to determine at this time the cause of death.

Testimony of rebuttal witnesses for both defense and prosecution ended yesterday.

Atty. William P. Cherrington, assistant prosecutor, said Common Pleas Judge Francis White of Athens County, sitting by assignment, had allotted two hours each to both sides for final arguments.

Cherrington predicted the jury would get the case about 2:30 p. m. today.

The young serviceman's mother filed the charge against Trago, who allegedly gave the youth a ride here from Jackson last July 1, and en route made improper proposals to him.

Trago denies this and testified that at the time of the alleged offense he was serving six legal papers in Jackson County.

Korea Bans 41
Yanks From Exits
SEOUL (AP)—Forty-one American businessmen are on a list to be refused exit permits from South Korea because of a dispute over ROK taxes, a spokesman for the American Chamber of Commerce in Korea said tonight.

The spokesman said chamber members had been shown the list unofficially and those on it were told they would not be granted exit visas until they paid their assessed tax.

The chamber said it notified the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, asking it to cooperate in protesting arbitrary, exorbitant taxes and claiming "approximately 40 members of the Chamber of Commerce in Korea are being held as individual hostages."

Arthur Lowe will officiate. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery, Chillicothe, by direction of the Fawcett-Oliver Funeral Home.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In the Spring of 1954, in my last term in college, I fell in love with and dated steadily a 30-year-old veteran who had come back to school for a degree in another field. I was accepted into his circle of friends which gave me a very welcome (and unaccustomed) feeling of belonging.

Although I was only 21, I had felt older than my classmates, maybe partly because of my heavy work load, and didn't mix socially with them, although we weren't unfriendly.

At graduation, an occasion I had so looked forward to, I got the shock of my life to discover that Jim's wife and child were in the audience! And a second shock on learning that all his campus friends (and mine, supposedly) knew he was married and never had deigned to enlighten me. I asked two of them why; and their evasive excuses were (1) they thought I knew and didn't care; and (2) they don't believe in getting mixed up in "these little intrigues."

While we were dating, Jim treated me as any legitimate boy friend would—staying well within the bounds of decency. Later, he apologized for having hurt me, but I don't think he really knows what he did. When he found that no amount of persuasion could induce me to date him again, he wanted us to be friends, invited me to his home, offered to introduce me to people, but I couldn't accept his help, and was ashamed to face his wife.

She's Serious Minded

So, I was dateless and friendless during Commencement Week, with a lot of painful explanations to make—as in my foolish happiness I had written to my family of my romance, and they kept asking about Jim.

Since last Spring I've been dating again, and although I have a good time, I am always handicapped by my distrust of people and usually plunge into tearful gloom next day. My family (and I, for

Ohio Solon Plans Visit To Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) plans to visit the Soviet Union this year.

His office said today his visa has been approved and he will pick it up in Paris.

His wife is traveling with him, but plans to return to the United States Sept. 23, before he goes to Russia. Hays also will visit Yugoslavia with a House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee.

that matter) think I should have rallied by now, but I believe I am suffering as much from general loneliness as from grief.

I have decided to enroll in graduate school next year, to be among people I can mix with, and to keep occupied. This leaves me with six months on my hands, which I would like to be full ones.

I am serious minded for my age, and don't fit in with the younger set generally, so YWCA activities and the like aren't for me—which I say without snobbery. I intend to join a political club that meets monthly; and expect to enjoy it and make friends there. I know there must be other activities in which I could participate without feeling out of place—but where, and what, are they?

DEAR P. N.: You were cut to the heart by Jim's arrogant hypocrisy and the indifferent cynicism of his friends—which seemed to imply that, from their angle, you didn't really rate first-class treatment in their circle. It was as if you were nobody in their scheme of things—an outsider of coarser or lesser origins. The fact is that you are more aristocratic in feeling than they—fine silk as compared to their asphalt texture.

Your long letter, here condensed to a fragment, reflects fine characteristics—courage, optimism, gentleness, honesty and willingness to grapple with elusive problems and keep on trying to solve them. Your dawning awareness of an "overcoat" of general loneliness does credit to your intelligence.

It strikes me that you've been an exile from emotional security all your life. Somehow your parents failed you—I. e., failed to invest you with confident expectancy of being loved and accepted by worthwhile people. Your solitary routine in college was due to emotional malnutrition in childhood; and your cumulative problem of loneliness stems from the same adverse conditioning.

Involuntarily you shrink from appropriate constructive social contacts, because you assume unconsciously that you aren't "fit" for admission to Grade-A close relationships. Thus, if you have time and money to spend on higher learning, my advice is to get psychiatrically re-educated for human fellowship. On the heels of that deeply instructive experience, rewarding interests should unfold naturally. To go back to college in your present demoralized emotional state would end up a matter of going in circles, repeating mistakes.

Korea Truce Teams Slated For Slash

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United Nations Command agreed Monday to a cut in the controversial truce inspection teams in Korea.

The Communists agreed previously to the reduction.

Going even further, the UNC asked an end to the inspection setup as the only solution to "Communist obstructions and frustrations."

Violent demonstrations by South Koreans opposing the presence of the teams has resulted in injury to 44 U.S. soldiers and more than 100 Koreans.

Communist Czechs and Poles make up half of each team. South Korean officials have consistently accused them of being Red spies.

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allied member of the joint Military Armistice Commission, said the Allies consider reduction of the four-nation machinery "a temporary measure only."

"Obstructions and frustrations of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission by the Communists have made dissolution of that commission the only satisfactory solution to the problem," he added.

The U. N. Command contends the Czechs and Poles have obstructed the neutral commission from performing its duty of checking all military personnel and equipment brought into North Korea. As a result, the Communists have put through a massive military buildup in the North in violation of the truce, the Allies say.

Ike's 'Security Risk' Setup Being Probed By Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration's handling of "security risks" is ticketed for a public inquiry this week by a special Senate subcommittee.

Chairman Johnston (D-SC) announced without elaboration that the Monday-through-Thursday hearings would cover 11 cases, including the controversial treatment of Wolf Ladejinsky and Abraham Chasanow.

Ladejinsky is the Russian-born land reform specialist fired by Secretary of Agriculture Benson as a security risk last December and hired with full security clearance by the Foreign Operations Administration in January. He now holds a top U. S. foreign aid post in Indochina, advising on land reform. He works for the International Cooperation Administration, FOA's successor.

Benson has since ordered his department's records changed so Ladejinsky would no longer be listed as a security risk.

Johnston said two Agriculture Department officials on whose advice Benson fired Ladejinsky will be called to testify.

Chasanow, former chief of the chart section in the Navy's Hydrographic Office, was fired as a security risk, then cleared and reinstated. His job was abolished last fall, and he refused to accept another position in the Navy.

Under the Eisenhower administration loyalty - security program a government worker can be classed as a "security risk" not only for suspected disloyalty but also for excessive drinking, dope addiction or other faults.

The Civil Service Commission reported 3,432 federal employees were fired "for security reasons" under the Eisenhower program from May 28, 1953, to March 31, 1955.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Truman, one of the most fiery campaigners in the history of American politics, is slowing up. Not by choice, though.

Apparently his age — he's 71 — and his health are finally saying to him: "Whoa."

Only 13 days ago Truman said he felt in "tip-top" shape and fully recovered from his major operation last year. He was anxious to get started on a series of give-em-hell speeches against the Republicans. This month and next—a kind of warmup for next year's presidential campaign when he hoped to help the Democrats throw the Republicans out.

And he did get started. He made a speech in Indiana Saturday and another in Michigan last night. But he had to cancel two speeches scheduled for California in September.

He said he called off the West Coast trip on the advice of his physician and the "prodding" of his wife. But he seemed in the best of spirits when he told newsmen: "They are afraid something might happen to the old man." He indicated the long journey to the Coast might be too taxing, although the speeches in California wouldn't be made until mid-September.

Just recently Michigan's governor, G. Mennen Williams, whom Truman praised highly last night, infuriated the Republicans by suggesting President Eisenhower, now 64, would be too old next year to seek re-election.

Truman's part in next year's campaign — judged by what has just happened when he couldn't make speeches scheduled almost two weeks apart — will be very limited. He has already said flatly he would not be a candidate in the presidential race.

So in 1956, Truman won't be matching the more than 350 speeches he delivered in 1948 to win the presidency — a victory which was a shock to Republicans and a surprise to many of his own Democrats.

Truman's return to the political wars Saturday with his speech in Indiana was not particularly impressive. It was mild compared with what he used to say in the past.

True, he denounced the Republicans and took some cracks at Eisenhower. But he spoke in generalities and didn't back up his charges with chapter and verse. His attack on Eisenhower may

Priest's Mother Fears Him Dead

FORT THOMAS, Ky. (AP) — The mother of a missing Roman Catholic priest fears her son "has been killed."

Mrs. Raymond Ryan of Columbus conferred with Sheriff Albert Howe and told him of her fears. The Rev. Raymond Ryan, assistant pastor of the St. Catherine of Siena Church in Fort Thomas, has been missing since a week ago Friday.

A number of reports have been received about persons resembling the 28-year-old priest but nothing tangible has been found to indicate his whereabouts.

Man Arrested For Cruel Assault

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP) — A 31-year-old man was being held without bond today in what Deputy Sheriff Earl Hendrix said was the most cruel assault of its type on a female he had ever known.

Police said Augusta Revels of Shannon knocked his wife down after a drinking bout, placed her head between his knees and applied pressure until he broke her back.

Mrs. Revels, mother of 10 children, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at a hospital here.

Dallas Bans Aides From Joining Union

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas firemen and other city employees were under notice from the City Council today that they will be fired if they join a union.

The vice president of the AFL Firemen's Union, Capt. Jack Bostick of the Fort Worth, Tex., Fire Department, had informed the Council the union planned a court challenge to the Dallas city ordinance. The Council resolution Monday was a reply of sorts to Bostick.

have been a surprise to many but here in Washington it was no secret his relations with Eisenhower are cool. Those who know Truman indicate he is deeply displeased that Eisenhower isn't warmer toward him.

In last night's speech in Michigan, Truman had more of the old fire. He accused the Republicans of trying to destroy the work of the New Deal and "Fair Deal," and he banged away on a theme which the Democrats will probably make one of their major points.

Truman scored the Republicans as the angels of big business. But there wasn't anything novel in that Democratic view of the Republicans.

The Fruit of Freedom

Labor Day, 1955

You can sense the symphony of American production throughout the land — the gentle hiss of a Bunsen burner in a lab . . . the rumble of a factory and the roar of a blast furnace . . . the snarl of a sawmill and the whine of a dynamo . . . the trap-drumming of riveting guns, and the never-ending click of steel wheels on steel rails.

You can see the American people — more millions than ever before, living better than any other peoples at any other time . . . better fed, better clothed, better educated, healthier . . . owning more homes and more luxuries . . . possessing more insurance, more pensions, more security . . . enjoying better working conditions and more leisure time.

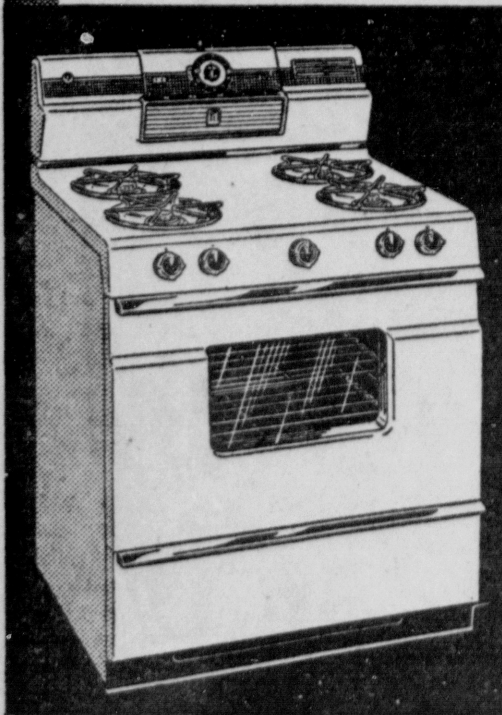

All this is the fruit of freedom. It blooms only in the climate of free enterprise. It ripens only in the economic sunshine of competent, loyal workers and intelligent, foresighted management working together as a team. And it is harvested by more than 160 million men, women and children who live immeasurably better because of it.

When the rewards are so great, so tangible — can any American fail in his devotion to the principles of free enterprise and the completeness of liberty in the land?

"It is inherent in our system, under which freedom of competition makes monopolies well-nigh impossible, that greater productivity in selling things must go hand-in-hand with greater productivity in making things, and that as ownership shares the fruits of higher productivity among its customers and its employees, as well as itself, the purchasing power of all three groups is improved, and the standard of living of the total population rises in the process." — W. L. McGrath, United States Employer Delegate to 1954 International Labor Conference.

Tight Money Setup Is Felt By Builders

Some Squawks Heard In Industry, But Lenders Optimistic

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Builders already are beginning to squawk a little about the tightness of money. Some say they are losing sales because customers who would like the houses can't find anyone who will pick up the mortgage. To which the lending fraternity's spokesman reply: "There will be plenty of money available for lending on the right terms to qualified borrowers." And some lenders add that a little tighter credit now will make the whole housing situation healthier in the future. As usual in such disputes, it's mostly a matter of difference of opinion as to what terms are right and what borrowers good risks. But the rightness of money is beginning to pinch a little here and there. Money is getting tight, not because there isn't about as much of it as ever available for investment, but because the demand by borrowers of all types—business plans, instalment buying, public construction financing, as well as home mortgages—is increasing right along, and the federal money managers aren't increasing the supply. With greater competition for the available investment funds, interest rates have been going up and money lenders have become more choosy about terms and take a colder look at marginal borrowers. Rising interest rates have upset the plans of a number of state and local governments that want to borrow money for highways, schools and other improvements. Choosiness by private lenders has been credited with the drop in the number of houses started in July. This happened before the tightening of credit rules on mortgages by the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration, which came at the

Solon's Wife Dies In Fall From Horse

WILLISTON, N.D. (AP)—A fall from a horse Monday took the life of the wife of Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-ND). Mrs. Burdick, 45, and the 76-year-old veteran Congressman were married last July 31 in Washington. She was the former Mrs. Edna B. Sierson, Haverhill, Mass.

The horse from which Mrs. Burdick fell had been given to her by her husband after they arrived at his ranch near here Aug. 10.

Egypt, Israeli Airplanes Clash

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The first aerial clash was reported Monday in renewed fighting along the tense Gaza strip frontier between Egypt and Israel where six were killed yesterday.

A reliable source in Israel-controlled Jerusalem said the encounter between planes of the two countries began when four Egyptian jets flew over Israeli territory near the juncture of the Gaza strip and the Sinai Peninsula.

One Egyptian plane was hit by gunfire from two Israeli planes, this source said.

African Chameleon Found In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Harold Nank thought he'd found the missing armadillo yesterday, but it proved to be an African chameleon.

Nank found the 8 - inch long, lizard snoozing in a Forsythia bush in his yard. He figured it was the pet armadillo that disappeared Aug. 12 from the home of 12-year-old John Scott, who had advertised for its return.

William H. Scheele, director of the Cleveland Museum of Natural History, observing its prehensile tail, opposed digits and large eyeballs with fused lids, said:

Yesterday the President was at his office for about two hours and then went out for golf.

Dazed Man Joins Wife In Death

GOLDFIELD, Nev. (AP)—A man, dazed by an accident that killed his wife, lay down beside her body Monday and killed himself with a .22-caliber pistol, Sheriff Ed Kitchen said.

The sheriff said Henry Hytti, 55, and his wife Alice, 30, Roseburg, Ore., were in a pickup truck that went out of control, flipped over four times and landed in a drainage ditch 19 miles north of Tonopah. Mrs. Hytti was killed instantly.

Witnesses said Hytti wandered around for a few moments, then pulled a .22 automatic out of his luggage and shot himself in the forehead.

TRAIN OF THE FUTURE?

"ABOUT 20" railroad presidents want to buy it but it's not for sale — at least not now. The product creating so much interest in the railroad industry is composed of 10 silvery coaches and a locomotive which comprise the Aerotrain, a multi-million-dollar experiment of General Motors Corp.

The Aero is an economy model, with no pullmans, diners or club cars. It is designed to carry 400 passengers at a cruising speed of 102 miles an hour at a cost of about two cents a passenger mile on relatively short runs.

It weighs about half as much; costs less than half as much to build; and costs less than half as much to operate as the conventional equipment, GM spokesmen say. Total cost of the 10 coaches is expected to be about $400,000, less locomotive, compared to $250,000 for one standard astrodome coach now in use.

GM turned to the auto industry to furnish the formula for the Aero. It placed aluminum cars on a strong steel frame, with the body of the cars being replaceable. The center of gravity is at floor level, 43 inches off the ground. It rides, literally, on air — on compressed air suspension. There is no metal-to-metal suspension in the entire train.

Aero coaches are 18 inches wider but only half as long as standard equipment. They feature body contour foam rubber seats, Polaroid windows, air conditioning, sound proofing and plastic flooring and roofing. Each coach has an airline-type serving pantry for meals.

This train will go to the Pennsylvania Railroad for a year's testing, while a second and third train will be tested by the New York Central and smaller eastern and western roads.

Railroad presidents, concerned about their steadily growing passenger loss, hope that this may be the answer to the gigantic $700 million a year passenger train deficit.

NEMESIS OF THE BUS

A LONG DRAWN-OUT transit strike has ended in Washington, D. C., in the customary manner—with an increase in wages and fares. Though the shutdown of bus service lasted nearly two months, the nation's capital was not as greatly inconvenienced as it was originally feared it would.

Washington is a cab-riding town. More than 11,000 of such for-hire conveyances patrol the city, several times the number found in other communities of comparable size. And of course many former bus riders took to their cars, usually on a pool basis. Police also manned the busiest intersections, replacing the signal lights, which in this instance is reported to have speeded traffic flow considerably.

The fact that Washington managed to get along as well as it did is a sad commentary on surface transit systems and is additional proof of their declining state. Not many years ago a citywide strike of this sort would have virtually paralyzed the nation's capital.

Here, in a dramatic fashion, the automobile has again shown itself to be the No. 1 nemesis of the bus.

Blind Are More Efficient

NEW YORK (AP)—It is hard to get some employers to hire handicapped people. Often when they do, they have a feeling they are doing the handicapped a favor.

Joe Heller is a different kind of employer. He prefers to hire blind people because he has found they do a better job than workers who can see.

"And I mean they do a better job in every way," said Heller, who operates a $2 million a year wholesale toy manufacturing firm in Chicago. Only 2 per cent of his employees have normal vision. Ninety-six per cent are totally blind, the other two per cent partially blind.

Heller's original interest in the blind was sentimental.

"When I was a boy of 7," he recalled, "my best friend fell into a trough of lime while playing on the site of a construction project. His eyes were burned out."

"I was very close to him. In those days there wasn't so much known about how to help the blind adjust themselves to their condition. My friend grew up and died, but he never learned to adjust himself. He was never able to work. He was afraid to try to get around by himself.

"It hurt me over the years to see him so helpless."

In 1949 Heller, who had been active in the toy field, decided to go into business for himself. With two partners he founded a firm which markets juvenile tool sets.

The idea came to him that perhaps some of the routine factory tasks could be performed by the blind, that in this way he could save some of them from the dreary loneliness of his dead childhood friend. He went to the Chicago Lighthouse for the Blind for help in setting up a training program.

The program worked out better than anyone's expectations. The blind proved amazingly able to perform any task assigned to them.

Today Heller has a reservoir of 500 skilled blind workers to draw on, employees from 100 to 150, depending on seasonal fluctuations in the toy industry. He avoids any sentiment in discussing them. He is a hard-headed realist, credits their efficiency largely for the fact his business has grown from $300,000 to $2 million annually in six years, now is the top producer in the field.

Some of the blind do office work. Some operate drill presses and riveting machines. Some assemble and pack the tool kits. When the firm added a line of chemistry sets, microscopes and juvenile mechanical drawing kits the blind learned the necessary new skills quickly and easily.

"In all sincerity," said Heller, "I would stack them up against the best group of sighted people. Our people would do their jobs better and get them done faster. They develop a marvelous sense of touch that compensates for their loss of sight."

Do they have other advantages?

"Many," said Heller crisply. "They don't argue or quibble or loaf on the job. If they get paid on a Friday, they don't go on a spree until the next Wednesday."

"There is little absenteeism. A blind man has to be really sick before he'll miss work. Once we've trained a blind worker we've never had to let one go because he let down on the job.

"They are happier working than any people who can see. We have music for them, and often they break out singing.

"They are also more careful. Our safety record is perfect. We've never had an accident."

The blind are paid during a four-week training period. They then receive the same wage scale—up to $2 an hour—as workers in other Chicago toy factories, plus extra money if their output is above the average.

"They come from all walks of life," said Heller. "One of our superintendents was the personnel director of a large corporation before he lost his sight. Another was a contractor."

"About 35 per cent of our blind are women. They do as well as the men and some things better. But they're all good."

"More employers ought to go to the nearest agency for the blind and really find out for themselves what the blind can do. They'll find them to be, man for man, a greater asset than many of the people they have on their payroll now."

These Days

The Fund for the Republic was established by the Ford Foundation and was given $15,000,000 which Paul Hoffman, Robert Hutchins and W. H. Ferry, together with a front of trustees, were to spend for general purposes. The Ford Trustees stated:

"The Foundation will support activities directed toward the emanation of restrictions on freedom of thought, inquiry, and expression in the United States, and the development of policies and procedures best adapted to protect these rights in the face of persistent international tension."

Nobody can object to any group fighting for civil liberties of various kinds and a great many organizations exist for such purposes in the United States, as, for instance, the American Civil Liberties Union, the Anti-Defamation League, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, etc., etc. These organizations have been long in existence and, preferred or opposed, they are well-known and understood.

The difference between these bodies and The Fund for the Republic, which the Ford Foundation established, is that whereas all the others are voluntary organizations of citizens who believe in a cause and set themselves up to fight for it and are subject to the criticism of their members and the withholding of support, The Fund for the Republic, on the other hand, consists of trustees and a hired office staff who are subject to no control, have no members, and have an enormous treasury which is income-tax free.

The actual manager of this operation is a former newspaper man, W. H. Ferry, familiarly known as "Ping" Ferry. "Ping" Ferry is reputed to be anatically enthusiastic about whatever he does and has turned The Fund for the Republic into a kind of actions committee whose pattern may best be discerned by the following list of books, articles and other material which it has distributed widely with the object of influencing public opinion:

"Banned Books" by Anne Lyon Height. Book. 275 distributed to May 31. Librarians and library trustees.

"Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists." Special issue on loyalty-security. 25,000 copies. Lists selected by publisher.

"Cornell Series in Civil Liberties." Books. Cornell University Press. Fund personnel; lists selected by publisher.

"Government by Investigation" by Alan Barth. Book. 850 copies. Lists selected by publisher.

"Grand Inquest" by Telford Taylor. Book. 45-copies. Federal Bench.

"Open Occupancy Housing." Article. 'House and Home.' 15,000 copies. National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing; others in race relations field.

"See It Now." Murrow-Oppenheimer television interview. One hundred ten 16 mm. prints. Educational institutions; civic organizations; local discussion groups.

MARRIAGE for THREE

By: ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Copyright, 1954, by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

SYNOPSIS
The post-war housing shortage in Kennerly, Missouri, had induced the newly wed Lairs, Adam and Ann, to engage in a home building business there. Adam, an experienced carpenter, had served with the Seabees during the war; Ann had been a secretary at the local lumber mill. So, bravely, these Lairs pooled their knowledge, formed a partnership of sorts and set forth to build homes for the people of Kennerly. But they made the mistake of first of all building a home for themselves.

CHAPTER TWO
ANN had become accustomed to Adam's bringing people to see her house, to show them how he'd arranged things in her kitchen, or the built-in storage units. When he brought still another young couple, about to be married, and showed them around, she talked pleasantly to the girl, and then went on with some sewing which she had in hand.

When the young folk were leaving, the prospective bride came to Ann and told her how much she liked her house! "It's just perfect!" she declared.

Ann smiled, and thanked her. But at the end of that same week, Adam, his lips white because he was doing something he hated to do, asked her what she'd say if he told her that he'd sold their house.

She turned clear about to stare at him, unable to speak at all, unable to believe. Finally she said, "You didn't, you couldn't!"

"Well," said Adam, shifting miserably from one foot to the other, "it's in your name, too—and you don't have to sign the papers. But I hope you will, Ann. I'm sure you understand why I had to do this."

"I understand," she said, her voice thick and cold in her throat, "that you never really meant this to be my house!" Her hands trembling, she turned back to the task which had been interrupted.

Adam clapped his hat on his head and stormed out of the house. Great dog! He didn't want to hurt Ann. Didn't she think it hurt him, too? He'd known that she felt deeply about their home—but she was grown up, she should understand that he was trying to save their very future, their marriage. Bankruptcy stared him in the face! And any wife...

He hadn't dreamed that she'd really object. She kept the books. Didn't she know the deep hole he was in?

Didn't she?

The next day Ann went quietly with him to the lawyer's office, and signed the papers. Then she wept, apologized and found she could not stop weeping.

Pickaway Garden Club Has Exhibits At Ohio State Fair

8 Niches Depict Scenes Of Creation

The members of the Pickaway Garden Club are taking an active part in the Ohio State Fair, being held in Columbus.

The club prepared a garden exhibit in the Agriculture Building on the fairgrounds, using a color scheme of red and white. Red geraniums, white petunias and white roses were arranged against a background of evergreen for the exhibit.

The club also presented a formal dinner table setting for a golden wedding observance. China and glassware from the Butch Jewelry Company were set on a gold cloth, with other appointments in keeping with the golden wedding theme.

Several members of the club also entered in the competition of individual arrangements in the flower show.

Highlight of activities for the club at this year's state fair was a group of arrangements planned for the eight niches in the garden display on Sunday.

The club members used a Biblical theme from Genesis on the Seven Days of Creation as the theme for their arrangements.

Mrs. Luther Bower presented the first arrangement, a black and white scene depicting the creation of day and night.

The second scene was the creation of the firmament and the waters, by Mrs. Guy Campbell.

The dry land and the earth yielding herbs and trees, which bore fruit, was presented by Mrs. Richard Jones.

The greater and lesser light, formed by the sun and the moon and stars was depicted by Mrs. Ben Gordon.

The creation of the birds of the air and the creatures of the sea was shown by Mrs. Turney Pontius in the fifth niche.

The cattle and beasts of the earth formed the setting for the sixth niche, which was the work of Mrs. Charles Thompson.

Mrs. Oscar Root used as her theme the Sabbath Day, when God rested and blessed his handiwork.

The final niche, depicting the creation of man, Adam and Eve, in the garden before evil was known was shown in an arrangement done by Mrs. Emmitt Barnhart.

School Taxes Have Direct Connection With Buying A Home

Owners 'Billed' For Costs Of New Buildings

Architect Designs 'Expendable' School For Economy Sake

School taxes are turning out to be the joker in the deck of many homeowners' budgets. The certainty of death and taxes may be an old bromide, but the surprise of this era's baby boom and school taxes is a new fangled fizz with a wallop.

Of course, everybody knows when he buys a house that school taxes will be as much a part of the home owning luxury as fuel bills, paint jobs and water for the lawn. But few home buyers of the last ten years got the full meaning of the World War II baby boom until those little income tax deductions — bless their hearts — began to need new school buildings and plenty of them.

The U. S. Office of Education estimates that the nation not only is now short 260,000 classrooms, but will need 476,000 more classrooms in the next four years. Furthermore, that office finds that classrooms now cost $35,000 apiece on the average. That's a lot of money. It isn't easy for the average taxpaying homeowner to get used to today's land and building costs.

For instance, a new high school is now being built in New Jersey for 1,600 students at a cost of $3,300,000 exclusive of its land. That's a layout of more than $2,000 per student for the building alone. More than 25 miles out of New York City, a site was selected for another high school at a land cost of $320,000—$10,000 per acre. There were 32 acres, but it seems that a campus is important nowadays.

THE RESULT is that every community seems to be sprouting amateur educators and school designers ready to make speeches at meetings of the local school board. In many cases this trend is bringing about a new thinking about how to combat the high cost of new schools. The speechmakers contend that homes today aren't built like stone castles to stand for ages, so why build monumental schools that will become obsolete in less than a generation?

The expendable school is the answer in many places. Walter T. Anicka, architect of Ann Arbor, Mich., who has designed close to 140 Midwest school buildings in the last five years, told us the other day that he thinks a school should be expendable in about 25 years.

"Why build marble halls that will be next to useless under the changing ideas of the coming generation?" asks Anicka. "An economical, clean, safe, well-lighted and carefully planned building can provide as fine a setting for education as the dazzling interior of the Kremlin."

Architect Anicka designs school buildings that cost only $410 per child. That's without land and furniture. The cost for furniture, he says, does not exceed more than $40 per child. Two of his most recent buildings for St. Clair Shores, Mich., a Detroit suburb, cost $11.51 per square foot to build.

THESE SCHOOLS are one-story buildings on concrete slab floors covered with asphalt tile. Walls are masonry block, faced with brick. Roofs are supported by steel frames. Corridors and toilets are

Unpainted Pieces Of Furniture Easily, Attractively Refinished

You can furnish a home on a shoestring now that mom's on the do-it-yourself beam.

Unpainted furniture, formerly relegated to playroom or nursery, may be so attractively refinished by the lady of the house that it will find its way into living room or master bedroom. Painting furniture pieces is just one way of beautifying them; sanding and staining to retain the natural wood grain is another method.

The craftsman, man or woman, employs just a few easy steps to achieve a beautiful chest, desk or dressing table.

Sanding is the first step and the experienced do-it-yourselfer knows that good sanding is essential to the beauty of a finished piece of wood.

THE FIRST sanding is done with a fine sandpaper. A convenient holder may be obtained so that the area may be covered quickly. New sandpaper may be slipped into the holder each time one becomes worn.

Wood particles must be dusted off after each sanding with a clean, dry brush. If particles are left behind they'll interfere with the flow of liquids and leave imperfections on the surface when it has dried. A clean lint-free cloth may be used, but be sure it is lint-free.

A clear sealer and primer should be used next. This equalizes hard and soft areas of the wood so that the entire surface will absorb color applications evenly. If the sealer is not used the natural beauty of the grain might be distorted.

Then too the sealing action protects the wood against damaging moisture which causes swelling finished with structural glazed tile. Floors in toilets and lobbies are terrazzo. Windows are of aluminum sash glazed with glare-reducing glass and plastic dome skylights are placed in the roof above each classroom and corridor.

Each classroom has its own temperature control and fresh air intake.

A typical 13-room school for 420 pupils at 30 per classroom, or 490 at 35 per classroom (including kindergarten) is completed within six months. The steel frame for the building goes up in two days. Frame and roof are the first items of construction after the foundations are ready. This gives protection for all further work.

"The entire building is based on an 8 by 16-inch module, the size of a masonry block," Anicka explains. "Every dimension is divisible by 8 inches. This simplicity makes for economy."

and warping. Drawers will slide easily if given a clear application on all surfaces.

The clear coat should be set for 15 minutes and then excess should be wiped away. Allow several hours for drying. Sand again, removing dust.

BASIC COLOR stains or intermixes can provide mahogany, cedar, maple or walnut effects. Or perhaps you'd prefer driftwood, sage, redwood. A blonde effect may be achieved by wiping a white resin over the wood. Sage, a soft-green hue, blends with many decorating schemes.

Application of this color stain is pretty much the same as for the first clear coat. Simply mix well and brush to the desired depth of color.

When the color coat is dry, sand with a very fine paper. Then apply your final coat which should give the wood a nice satin sheen.

Caution Advised In Purchasing Exhaust Fans

Have you recently been thinking of buying a kitchen exhaust fan to get rid of the damaging effects of grease deposits on your walls and furnishings?

Before you buy, however, one word of caution. There are many makes of exhaust fans on the market which claim all kinds of virtues, performance-wise, but a fan that does not bear a "Certified Ratings" tag is not always the most dependable fan for the money you pay. Fans without this label of dependability are often priced far below fans of reliable ratings.

Don't be duped into buying a fan of inferior quality. Only kitchen exhaust fans that have their CFM ratings clearly shown on the "Certified Ratings" tag can be relied upon to be accurate.

Before you go to your appliance dealer, find out how much air movement you need for your particular kitchen. Air in the kitchen should be completely changed every two or three minutes. In determining size of fan needed in your kitchen, simply calculate the number of cubic feet in the kitchen and divide by the number of air changes desired.

For instance, a kitchen having 800 cubic feet of space needs a fan rated at 400 cubic feet per minute to have a complete air change every two minutes. If you do not get a fan correctly rated, your exhaust fan will not do you much good, since the entire kitchen will not benefit unless the fan is measured to the room dimensions.

This is very important. Fans not carrying "Certified Ratings" tags have not been tested according to United States and manufacturers' commercial code standards.

If you go ahead and buy any type of exhaust fan for your kitchen without this attached sign of approval, you will probably pay less initially but more in the long run. Nine out of ten times, this type of fan has been over rated or not rated at all, with the result that there is no definite indication as to the fan's air moving capacity. You eventually have to buy another fan that will do the required job of ventilating.

The Certified Ratings tag tells you exactly how much air the fan you buy will move so that there is no guess work involved, and you get exactly what you need without wasting time and money.

Roundtown Retrospect

By Mac Noggle

Yes — canal days in their heyday, were red-letter days for Circleville. Many towns in the state — lots of them many times the size of Roundtown—would have given a lot to have been on the route of one of the divisions of the Ohio-Erie Canal system.

Did we ever tell you how we were nearly bypassed and had it not been for the "go-get 'em" urge of some of Circleville's leaders we might not have had the canal through the west edge of Circleville?

Yes — May 24, 1828 was a critical day in the history of our 18 year-old town. It was then that just where the canal would cross the Scioto River was to be finally decided.

There had been many surveys made and it finally boiled down to where three sites were proposed. These were: Keffer's Point, located about halfway between the mouths of Darby and Hargus creeks; a crossing at Circleville; and the third was southwest of Circleville, at the mouth of Yellow-bud Creek. The decision narrowed down to Keffer's Point and Circleville, with, apparently, everything in favor of the spot above Hargus Creek.

THE MOST damaging argument against coming down to Circleville (from the north to the south and then turning the channel directly west to make the river crossing) was that this plan would cost better than $7,000 more to build than the other recommendation. Here was something which meant much to Circleville's growth—or perhaps even its survival. Should the canal cross at Keffer's, the nearness was just enough to damage our town's interests and it would be too far away to do it any good.

Something had to be done quickly—we couldn't afford to let the odds of $7,000 ruin our chances. With the help of some very influential citizens — we wouldn't be afraid to bet that Caleb Atwater was right out in front, for he was a leading advocate for the building of the canal system of Ohio—the commissioners of the canal were persuaded to build the aqueduct at Circleville, if our people would come across with one-half of the extra cost.

Now, for a town the size of Circleville, $3,500 was a staggering sum of money; but it was raised by subscription in just one day. Six days later, construction of the aqueduct was put under contract and actual work started at once.

In 1831, it was completed and the first mule-drawn packet — the "Governor Brown" — passed through the aqueduct into the lower-level locks. There was quite a celebration in Circleville on that day, for one must remember that, outside of the stage-coach, this was our town's first transportation unit.

Haven't you often wondered why this structure, even though it was no longer in use, was not preserved by the State of Ohio as a historical landmark? Probably for the same reason that our old covered bridges are going, one by one, don't you think?

PEOPLE COMING into our state from the New England area or any of the early Colonial eastern states can't understand why nothing here seems sacred against destruction — or so-called modernization. They're not used to such things where they live.

Why do we destroy everything, even priceless heritages, that are in the way of what they would have us believe is progress? Yet, we'll drive hundreds of miles into other parts of our country to see just such things which have been properly preserved as tangible records of history — rightfully belonging to all Americans.

Woodrow Wilson said: "A spot of local history is like an inn upon a highway; it is a stage upon a far journey; it is a place the national history has passed through. There mankind has stopped and lodged by the way."

But back as early as 1836, Circleville started on its orgy of destruction, beginning with the squaring of the circle. Our next major blow was at midnight on April 27, 1915, when our old aqueduct was completely destroyed by fire. You can't make many of our old-timers believe that this just happened —there was too much evidence pointing that it was planned that way.

THERE ARE many tales which can be told concerning things which happened during the "roaring days" of the canal. Some are true, some highly colored and others purely fiction. Maybe you would like to hear about the first boat built to be run on the Ohio Canal. Honestly — this is a true story! It was supposed to have eventually visited Circleville, however, it never did — here's why.

You no doubt know that the first division of the Ohio Canal was constructed over near Buckeye Lake. The first canal boat—"Lady Jane" was built at Hebron. On the day of its launching, people from everywhere lined the banks to see the props holding the "Lady Jane" knocked away and the boat dropped into the water.

Celebrities from all over the state were on hand to board the "Lady Jane" for her maiden voyage. To visit the site, about a mile north, where Governor Clinton of New York and Governor Morrow of Ohio had lifted the first spadeful of earth at the dedication of the start of the building of the canal. Our own Caleb Atwater had a part in these ceremonies.

The "Lady Jane" had fore and aft cabins and a wide and roomy midship. She was said to have had unusual grace and beauty.

Loaded to capacity, the lines were cast off and the helmsman shouted to the team—"let 'er go"—and a historic journey had its beginning. With only a few minor incidents, which caused the passengers some misapprehensions, she went through a big culvert over a stream, slick and clean, and everything seemed to be functioning perfectly until the first lock was reached.

THEN, SUDDENLY and without any warning, there was a violent jar and a frightening, splintery sound—the boat was stuck in the lock! It was too wide, by about a foot, to pass through this lock or any other in the whole Ohio Canal system.

"Lady Jane" never did get out of sight of the place of her birth, her christening and her great humiliation.

HAVING "BRUSH TROUBLES"? Get Bramble-Weedicide

the effective 2-fold action containing 2, 4, 5-T and 2, 4-D Esters. Because the relatively higher cost of 2, 4, 5-T, Bramble-Weedicide may be used advantageously where 2, 4-D alone does not do a satisfactory job on woody type weeds. Use to improve pasture, reduce rights-of-way maintenance cost. Improve hay land with brush infestation.

Third Place In AA In Three-Way Tie

TOLEDO (AP)—Now they have a three-way tie for third place to break before American Association fans know who is going into the post-season playoffs.

Further scrambling a skin tight runnerup race, Minneapolis, spilled Omaha, 5-3, while Toledo and Louisville split a twin bill last night. Toledo took a 6-5 decision and Louisville retaliated, 9-7.

Meanwhile, Indianapolis shoved Clearhouse deeper into the cellar, 4-3 and wet grounds kept St. Paul from playing at Denver.

Lieutenant J G Wins Purse In Ohio State Fair Pace

COLUMBUS (AP)—Lieutenant J G, driven by Bob Vallery, and Lu McPherson, piloted by Dinty Moore, ran off with the two $2000 purse events yesterday during harness racing at the Ohio State Fair.

Owned by George McCreary of Urbana, Lieutenant J G finished second, then first in two heats of the 25-class pace. In the 19-Class Trot, Lu McPherson of the O. L. Hears Stable in Toledo won both heats in stylish fashion.

Sunbury's Jim Edwards drove his Bonnie Lois Volo to straight heat wins in the $2000 Free-for-all Trot, moving the 8-year-old mare to a mile time of 2:04 2-5 in the first dash, just 2-5 of a second off the track record.

Tribe Calls Up 3 Men From Minor Clubs

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, opening a two-game series tonight against Baltimore's Orioles, will beef their ranks with three more players for the four-game weekend visit by Chicago.

The Tribe is bringing in Rudy Regalado and Billy Harrell from Indianapolis and Bud Daley, a recent purchase from Sacramento.

It took a special dispensation from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to get Regalado back from option. Ordinarily, no player on option can be recalled from Aug. 1 until the end of the particular minor league season. But Frick made an exception to provide a replacement for Vic Wertz, stricken with polio last week.

Regalado, playing third base and the outfield for Indianapolis, is batting .325 and has driven in 66 runs. Harrell, a shortstop and outfielder, has a .277 batting average with 54 RBIs. Daley, a southpaw pitcher, has won 18 and lost 13 with an earned run average of 3.58.

Since major league clubs can carry as many as 40 players after Sept. 1, it will not be necessary to trim anyone to admit the trio.

Bob Lemon is scheduled to pitch against the Orioles tonight, and Herb Score tomorrow. Up to now, the Indians have won 15 of 18 games with Baltimore.

Early Wynn, unable to take his turn last Sunday because of a sore elbow, is tentatively slated to open against the White Sox Friday night.

Guglielmi, Shaw To Match Wits

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two of the nation's top collegiate quarterbacks last season will meet here tonight in the infancy of their professional football careers.

Ralph Guglielmi, formerly of Notre Dame, will do most of the passing and signal-calling for the Washington Redskins while George Shaw, from Oregon, will do 50 percent of the quarterbacking for the Baltimore Colts when the traditional rivals meet in a National Football League exhibition.

Guglielmi, who was outstanding in the College All-Star's 30-27 upset of the Cleveland Browns Aug. 12 will start for the 'Skins.

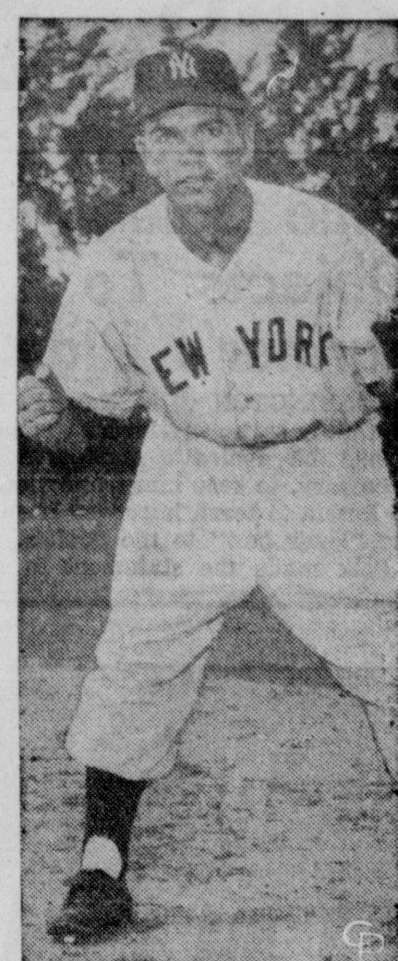

Softball Tourney Nearing Finals

TOLEDO (AP)—Columbus Falter Packers and Youngstown Sons of Italy meet today in the losers' bracket finals of the Ohio ASA Softball Tournament, with the winner to play Hamilton Hudephol Beers for the tournament championship tonight.

In qualifying yesterday, Columbus beat Lima House Recreations 4-2 behind Tod McKinney's three hit pitching and bested Akron Ruds TV's 5-1 on another three hitter

Redlegs Eye Giant Series, Fourth Place

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs move into the Polo Grounds for a two-night double-header tonight and a crucial four-game series with the world champion New York Giants.

Two and one-half games separate the fifth place Reds with the slumping fourth place Giants. The Reds need to break even, or better, to sustain their drive for a first division berth.

The Reds picked up a game on the New Yorkers last night with a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies at Connie Mack Stadium. New York bowed to the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in an afternoon contest.

All the Red legs were on base-empty homers, with Wally Post socking two of the roundtrippers. His second came in the ninth inning and broke up a 3-3 deadlock. All the homers were pitched up by 21-game winner Robin Roberts. He has served up 34 home run balls this season.

Through the fifth, Roberts controlled the Reds by giving up four singles. The Phils, meanwhile, had built up a 3-0 lead.

Smoky Burgess, Robin's former batterymate, drove his 19th homer of the season over the rightfield fence in the sixth inning. Post slammed his 33rd homer in the same frame.

Hobie Landrith, pinchhitting for Joe Nuxhall, tied the score in the eighth with his leadoff homer over the rightfield fence. And then Post led off the ninth with his 34th homer.

Booklet Intelligently Deals With Problem Of Losing Weight

Available Here At Health Office In Court House

1st Step Suggested Is To See Doctor; Examination Advised

Pickaway Countians worry about their weight just as much as anyone.

Many times, over-weight residents worry and worry trying to lose that excess poundage. They are tempted to try those quick-reducing fads or take special pills.

But local physicians agree that most overweight persons could easily lose excess fat—provided the condition is not glandular—if they approached the problem intelligently. One of the first steps is to seek out a physician's advice on the matter.

Some persons, due to their physical makeup, might not be able to withstand a rigid reducing diet. Others may "starve" themselves into submission.

PERHAPS ONE of the easiest and most intelligent ways of meeting the excess-poundage problem is to visit the Pickaway County Board of Health office in the court house. There they can pick up an interesting little booklet entitled, "Waistlines", published on behalf of a national insurance firm. The booklet points out that a diet for one person may not work for another. Here is how it summed up:

1. Have an examination by a physician.
2. Have the physician prescribe a diet and other necessary treatment suited to your age, the extent of your overweight and your habits of living.
3. "Weigh" all foods you eat until you grow accustomed to choosing your diet; calculate calories and stay within the calorie limits prescribed every day.
4. KEEP A record of your daily food intake.
5. Weigh yourself regularly at the same time each week and keep a record of weights — but avoid more frequent weighings. (Many doctors advise getting weighed only once a week.)

6. Get enough exercise and rest.
7. Never take any reducing drug not ordered by your physician.
8. Avoid fads, frauds, fallacies and follies; you can spot them because they promise you something for nothing — that is, weight loss without dieting or other effort on your part.

THE BOOKLET warns that exercising alone is not enough to take off weight. Too great a restricted diet may cause a reduction in vitamin intake and invite disease.

By substituting or "trading", a dieter may be able to eat almost all of the same foods now being taken in. For example, if you want potatoes, cut out the bread. Overweight is due to eating too much and exercising too little. People of average weight, the booklet states, generally live longer and suffer less from certain chronic diseases.

Before the age of 30, according to the booklet, it is safer to weigh a little more rather than a little less. After that age, the "spare" figure is better than the "ample" one.

The booklet goes on to explain that the problem is to cut down the intake of food without sacrificing those materials which the body must have. Approximately 40 chemicals enter into the composition of the human body and all must be present in amounts needed for bodily maintenance or the diet may actually undermine health.

THE BOOKLET reasons that some persons feel that all they have to do is cut out all starches and fats. This, according to the booklet, is wrong; the body still requires these things, but in dieting they should be in reduced amounts.

Naturally, a farmer cannot be expected to be held to a diet prescribed for an office worker. Therefore, the booklet continually warns against going on a diet before consulting a physician.

Pickaway Countians who are interested in this can gain a veritable storehouse of valuable information from the booklet. It is available at the county health office in the court house.

Ohio Solon Objects To Farmer's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Polk (D-Ohio) says an Iowa farmer should be denied a passport, if necessary, to keep him from going to Russia to teach improved farming "know how" to the Soviets. Polk made the statement to a reporter yesterday while commenting on the plan of corn farmer Roswell Garst of near Coon Rapids, Iowa, to visit Russia.

At the same time, the farm belt congressman urged President Eisenhower in a telegram to oppose similar trips by other Americans. Polk specifically pointed up Garst's intentions.

Garst plans to leave for Russia about Sept. 20. He was invited by the head of the Soviet farm delegation that visited his farm last week.

"If we give Russia the advantage of our agricultural know-how," Polk wired Eisenhower, "who can say that in 25 or 50 years from now American boys may not perish by the thousands in a war of survival against international Communism?"

Said Garst, "I don't think it (my trip) is likely to cause a war. I think it will help remove the chances of war."

Langford-Jon Hall Marriage Is Ended

STUART, Fla. (AP)—The 17-year marriage of actress Frances Langford and actor Jon Hall has ended in divorce.

The decree was granted last Tuesday. An attorney said the divorce was "amicable" and the property was divided in an agreement signed Friday. They were married in June, 1935, and there were no children.
